The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 7, 1875.

THE LOUISIANA RETURNING BOARD.

As in 1872, so in 1875, the distressed condition of prostrate Louisiana is directly traceable to the unjust and fraudulent action of a piece of political machinery known as the Returning Board. From the arbitary rulings of the Lynch Board sprang the usurpations which resulted in Grant parish massacres and bloodshed on the streets of New Orleans. It has never been pretended by any Republican politician, save Morton and a few of his followers, that Kellogg is the legally elected Governor of Louisiana. Senator Carpenter pronounced against him on the floor of the Senate in a magnificent appeal for justice to the oppressed people of the South which almost tempts one to forget his shortcomings. Grant recognized Kellogg only as Governor de facto, on the decision of a corrupt court. He could not go behind the decision of United States Judge Durell, it is argued, but was bound to maintain it with the army and navy of the United States, if need be. In this connection it is well to remember that a House committee unanimously voted to prefer articles of impeachment against Durell, and that he escaped this disgrace only by resigning his office just before the meeting of Congress—December 1st. Again, we say, Kellogg has never been regarded in Republican councils as lawful Governor of Louisiana.

The Returning Board of 1874 bids fair to go into history as another instrument employed by this vicious man, Kellogg, to fasten upon the people of Louisiana an odious and tyrannical administration. To understand the situation aright it must be recognized that Kellogg is a candidate for the United States Senate, and to this end a legislature made up of Republican members is necessary. Over and above this motive is, perhaps, the fear of impeachment for maladministration. The Returning Board, however, was in session for nearly sixty days. It was made up of four Republicans and one Conservative. The original returns, as received and compiled by the clerks of the Board, indicated the election to the Legislature of 70 Conservatives and 41 Republicans. The final report of the Board to the Secretary of State gave the Legislature an entirely different complexion: fifty-four Republicans and fifty-two Conservatives, a clear majority of two for the Kellogg government.

How was this accomplished? Why, it was the easiest thing in the world. The Board simply ruled that in those parishes where the Conservative majorities were less than 7,000 there was intimidation, and on the affidavits of Kellogg's henchmen declared that if a free election had been held the Republican candidates would have been elected, ergo: they were elected. How about this intimidation business? Consider what Mr. Wm. W. Phelps, the most prominent Republican member of the Congressional investigating committee, says: "There has been little intimidation; as much on one side as the other." These words from a Republican who has already achieved a national fame; and yet the Returning Board ignores the Conservatives out of a clear majority of 29 in the lower house, on the ground of intimidation! The returns clearly show, and all official investigations prove, that a large number of colored citizens in the South voted the Conservative ticket. So obvious was the intent of this scandalous fraud that the Conservative member of the Returning Board, Oscar Arroyo, withdrew as soon as it became "a part," at his colleagues were working only to secure a Republican majority in the Legislature.

We do not fail to call attention to the fact that after the Board had awarded Kellogg a working majority in the lower house, sufficient to organize that body, it stopped short, and referred four parishes to the Legislature. Why did it not refer all the contested parishes to the House, which is in law, and which should be in fact, sole judge of the election and qualifications of its own members? From all the facts the case presented can any fair-minded man draw any conclusion other than that the Returning Board shaped its decisions according to the wishes of Kellogg?

AN ORGAN IN A FIX.

Yesterday morning the Bulletin unqualifiedly approved the outrageous intrusion of the Federal authority upon the floor of the Louisiana House of Representatives. It denounced the Conservatives as traitors and rebels and declared that they had no show of rightful representation in the Legislature. It affirms, without pretense of argument, that a Republican majority was elected by the people. Then it utters the following audacious falsehood:

This was not satisfactory to the Democracy, who had previously to the election declared that they would not abide by any result that did not give them all political power; and hence they refused, by brute force, to give the Republicans the [illegible] they were lawfully entitled to—and h[illegible]s Gen. De Trobiand led Mr. Rebel De[illegible] out by the ear.

Doubtless the Bulletin thought that observation about rebel ears was passing funny. But what must be its sensations on reading the Chicago Tribune's opinion that the organization by the Republicans was "clearly illegal?" Then, continuing, the Bulletin decisively says:

"That is the whole of it. The Democracy refuse to abide by the laws, and the election at which they took a part, because they were found in the minority. There was no other course for the United States officer to pursue."

Now read what the dispatches say on this point:

"Wm. Walter Phelps, a Republican member of the Congressional committee in New Orleans, unhesitatingly declares the military interference illegal."

And the Chicago Tribune unqualifiedly says of the election of ex-Gov. Hahn:

"To conceal the fact that there was not a quorum present, the vote was by acclamation. * * * The result is that the United States troops are sustaining a usurping and illegal Legislature!"

And then we are told that "the calmest and fairest minds among Republicans [at Washington], while indisposed to criticise the President's use of armed intervention in the Louisiana Legislature, view the act with exceeding distrust." "There was no other course for United States officers to pursue," eh? What infamous measure wouldn't you endorse; what possible fraud wouldn't you defend, if, in the endorsement of the one and the defense of the other, your party could gain a temporary advantage? You do not scruple to uphold an act which, if allowed to go unrebuked, would be subversive of all law and order—would rob the citizen of every right, and place the Government under the supreme control of political desperadoes.

But let us continue this a little farther. Gen. Sheridan was sent to Louisiana to relieve Gen. McDowell. Before he had passed forty-eight hours in the city of New Orleans he sent a dispatch to the Secretary of War announcing that life and property were insecure in Louisiana to a degree that the General Government could not easily realize; that murders and assassinations were frequent, and that the people of the State encouraged such crimes. And the Bulletin says:

We all know that Phil. Sheridan won't lie. Read what he says in the dispatch to the Secretary of War. He is not a man to get scared at trifles; and yet he declares that there is a defiance of all law and authority, and that murder and violence is committed with impunity.

Now read what William Walter Phelps, a man whom you have repeatedly exalted as the conqueror of Ben. Butler and a friend of the people, and who has carefully studied the situation in Louisiana, as a leading Republican member of the Congressional committee—read what he says:

"Phelps asserts that there is no greater insecurity to property or life in Louisiana now than before the war, and declares that troubles are greatly magnified. Both sides want peace, and if any one would convince Louisiana that it has the officers it selected, all would submit."

That is the testimony of every candid Northern man who has visited the South and honestly endeavored to get at the truth of these disturbances. What must be the moral standing of a journal which would thus seek to inflame the popular heart with hatred for men, who, however grievously they may have erred in the sad past, are now honestly striving to build good and honest governments on the ruins of shattered States? It is most gratifying to know that every decent journal in the East either openly condemns this last outrage on the people of Louisiana, or refrains from such brutish exultation over a prostrate foe as disgraced the Bulletin of yesterday.

THE CARPET-BAGGERS OF THE SOUTH.

Last Monday the Bulletin went to the defense of Southern carpet-baggers with the vehemence and rashness of a man who some day suddenly remembers an engagement he should have met a year before. It says they are "true sons of the South;" that "they have faced social ostracism, more terrible than political disfranchisement, with a courage and devotion to duty greater than that which faced death at the cannon's mouth."

Just to show how ridiculously ill-timed this defense of a pack of indefensible political scoundrels was, we reproduce an article from the Chicago Tribune, leading Republican journal of the Western States. After freely expressing its opinion that the Government "has been already too lenient" with the carpet-bag element of Southern Republicanism, the Tribune says:

"The government has to do with their official misconduct and corruption until it is impossible to bear them longer. Its warnings have been unheeded, and its leniency has been made the occasion for fresh outrage. The Republican party owes no favor or advantage to the speculative carpet-baggers. Were it not for the immutable character of its principles, and the necessity of those principles to the welfare and progress of the country, they would have ruined it long ago. As it is, they have weakened it, in one large fraction of the country have placed it in a false position, and have loaded it down with a burden of reproach and calumny for which it is not fairly responsible, but which it has had to carry. They have repelled from the Republican party thousands of votes, have hampered it in its work of reconstruction, and have brought odium upon honest Southern Republicans. Carpet-bag Republicans might as well understand at the outset of their canvassing, and before they proceed any further, that Northern Republicans have no consideration to extend to the frauds, corruptions, trickery, thievery, and perversion of law which have characterized Southern carpet-baggers, and that if they wish equal rights they must rid themselves of this pestilential curse."

At the head of this gang of political freebooters so strongly condemned by the Tribune, stands Wm. Pitt Kellogg, present Governor of Louisiana, the responsible author of all the political troubles which have disturbed that unfortunate State since 1871.

WOMAN'S DRESS REFORM.—Here is what a sensible woman says about dress reform: "I, for one, certainly think that if women will but wear the present modes sensibly, not cramping their feet in tight boots, not using their corsets for light lacing, not overloading their skirts with trimming, and not walking in dress designed for the carriage or the saloon, they can hardly, under any system, dress better or more healthfully than it is in their power to dress now."

By direction of the Attorney-General of the United States, proceedings in equity has been instituted to set aside patent fraudulently secured by A. P. Rockwood, a Mormon Bishop, for the lands occupied by the Utah Penitentiary. The land in controversy has been conveyed to Brigham Young, who will be made a party to the fraud.

[illegible]-FOG SIGNAL.—About ten days ago Notice to Mariners" was issued by Otto Michler and forwarded to the different stations on the coast, relative to the discontinuance of the fog signal at the new lighthouse at Point Adams. The fog signal is in operation at the present time. Mr Wheeler last week went down to make a tour of inspection Before reaching the lighthouse he stopped to examine the lenses and other parts of the illuminating apparatus, and to see the effect of the light. If everything is in order, a dispatch to that effect will be sent to the lighthouse board and the fog signal will be designated in the notice It is expected that the light will be displayed by the first of next month The new fog signal is near the lighthouse is expected to send forth its warning with the next time

INSTALLATION.—On Tuesday evening Harmony Encampment No 4 I O O F of this city, had quite a pleasant gathering with the public installation of officers for the term After the officers were installed by Grand Commander A [illegible] a recess was taken and a good time had. THE ROPE.

JOHN KREIGER, A GERMAN COMMITS SUICIDE BY HANGING.

Last evening about fifteen minutes to 9 o'clock, the lifeless body of a German named John Kreiger, was found in the kitchen of Mr Koenig, who resides near the corner of Alder and Second streets Death was the result of strangulation as the man was found hanging to a joist by a small rope. Kreiger was last seen about 8 o'clock and the deed is supposed to have been committed about half past 8 Deceased was a brother in law of Mr Koenig and was frequently about the house For the last four months Kreiger was out of employment, and had indulged much in liquor so that of late he was forbidden to enter his brother in law's house At times his mind seemed much affected from strong drink He was not heard to make threats which would cause his friends to suspect that he meditated self murder and when found the most diligent search failed to discover any note which could throw the least gleam of light on the mystery or furnish any reason for the rash act A few minutes before 9 o'clock Mr Koenig having occasion to go into the kitchen was horrified on opening the door to discover Kreiger hanging to one of the joists suspended by a small sea-grass bed cord Although terrified beyond measure, it suddenly being confronted by the distorted features of the dead man and paralyzed for the moment Mr Koenig soon recovered from the surprise and lost no time in cutting the body down Seizing hold of a knife he severed at one stroke the slender rope The deed had been accomplished by Kreiger first taking the rope and stepping upon a table from which elevated position he was able to reach up and tie one end around the joist. He then formed a running noose through which he slipped his head Adjusting the fatal cord carefully about his neck, the self murderer swung off and launched an unprepared soul, burdened with sin, into the presence of its maker Appearances indicated that Kreiger had been hanging about 20 minutes when discovered His feet were hanging not more than 15 inches from the floor In his excitement, Mr Koenig did not think to cut the house from around Kreiger's neck which, by the weight of the body was drawn very tightly There could be little doubt but what he was totally extinct though the loosening of the rope might possibly have placed restoration to life within human reach Koenig immediately notified the police of the occurrence. Drs Wilson and Glisan were also called in After examining the body these medical gentlemen pronounced life totally extinct Coroner Wet more not being convenient—as he resides in a remote portion of the city—Justice Reilly was notified and after causing a jury to be summoned proceeded to hold an inquest Several witnesses were examined, when the jury rendered the following

VERDICT

We, the undersigned jurors, summoned to assist Acting Coroner Reilly in holding an inquest over the body of John Kreiger find that the deceased came to his death by hanging by the neck in a house owned by Jacob Koenig on Second street, between Alder and Washington In our opinion the hanging was brought about through the excessive use of intoxicating liquors, and we believe that deceased was temporarily insane

(signed) E J BRYAN Foreman
W J Gallagher, A Wendt, L B Lindsey, John A Cordes Peter Wagner

Joseph Reilly, J P, Acting Coroner

Deceased was aged about 45 years is a husband and father Several years ago he was separated from his wife, since which time they have not lived together Shortly after the inquest the body was removed to the morgue To day the remains will be buried

AMUSEMENTS.

No entertainment given in our city for a long time has been attended by a more refined and intelligent audience than was that given by F C B Plummer at Masonic Hall last evening The attendance was quite large and just before the entertainment began a body of Masons which was in session in the hall above adjourned and came down into the hall marching in a body, thus paying a very neat compliment to the gentleman giving the entertainment Mr Plummer was as usual very pleasing and instructive in the rendition of an excellent programme selected for the occasion, No man has ever been able to interest and please a Portland audience better than the Professor and last night he was listened to and applauded most earnestly We regret that his health will not permit him to repeat this entertainment in our city at present, as we are satisfied that a large number who were unable to be present last evening would be pleased to hear him

MEMBERS.—This resort was well attended on the occasion of the first appearance of Cal Mandeville and the new gaiety troupe The programme was varied, and in the main gave satisfaction Mandeville was the chief attraction and proved to be all that was expected The performances are well worth the price of admission To night a new bill will be presented

Samuel's Portland Directory for 1874 contained over 500 names more (of bona fide residents of this city) than any other work of the kind for that year His Directory for 1875 which will be ready for delivery in a short time will compare as favorable Any one wanting a correct and reliable City Directory will do well by buying Samuel's This is the only Directory publishing supplements

PASS WHILE YOU READ THIS! The season for parties and balls has arrived and the cold dreary days and nights of winter will soon visit us. Every young man old man and boy for that matter likes to present a neat appearance when attending parties the theater or walking about the streets. They like wise desire to be well provided against the cold blasts of snow and rain What conduces more to the personal appearance and comfort of a gentleman or boy than a nice closely fitting suit of clothes set off with a heavy warm overcoat? Why will any one be so foolish as to go without either when HECK & WALDMAN have everything in that line Beck & Waldman in laying in their immense fall and winter stock of clothing have exercised great care and judgment with reference to the demands of trade They have purchased their goods low and are determined not to be undersold Let the public note this fact.

COMMON COUNCIL.

(REGULAR MEETING JAN 6 1875.)

The Common Council met last evening at the usual hour, Mayor Failing in the chair

Members present—Catlin, Corbett, Hoyt Lyon Moreland, Story

Absent—Benner, Russell and Thompson W S Caldwell, clerk and Chief Engineer Tappeus in attendance

Minutes of the last meeting read and approved

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

From S M Lyon and others asking to have the coal oil lamps in a certain portion of the city discarded and gas substituted Referred to the committee on streets and public property

From A H Johnson and others calling the attention of the Council to the condition of F Washington and B streets, and asking to have a portion of the streets named planked Referred to the committee on streets and public property

A communication was read from R A Habersham in relation to an unliquidated claim amounting to $59 50 held by him against the city for services rendered as a witness in a certain case After considerable discussion the matter was referred to the committee on judiciary, with instructions to obtain the opinion of the city attorney and report the same at the next meeting of the Council

REPORTS

A report was read from the committee on fire and water relative to the letting of the contract for constructing a shed and bell tower to the rear of the new engine house of Multnomah Co No 2 and for laying a sidewalk in front of the same The committee stated that Mr L Therkelsen, being the lowest responsible bidder, was awarded the contract for the sum of $670 Report adopted.

The following report was read from the city attorney, and, on motion, filed

PORTLAND Jan 6 1875

To the honorable the Mayor and Common Council

The demurrer to the complaint in the case of Joseph Knott against J H Lappeus has been sustained by the court This was meant to restrain the city from collecting certain taxes levied against Mr Knott The effect of the decision is to allow the city to proceed with the collection of the tax unless an appeal is taken to the supreme court In case an appeal is taken I have proposed to counsel upon the other side to take up the case at this term of court

I think that this decision must govern in the case of the O & C R R Co vs the city of Portland which has been referred to W N Thayer and has been argued and taken under advisement by him

Very respectfully your obt servt
A C GIBBS city attorney

The annual report of the city surveyor was read and ordered to the files

The quarterly report of the city treasurer was read, and on motion referred to the committee on ways and means with the usual instructions to examine, and if found correct, to order that it be published in the daily papers

The annual report of the auditor and clerk was presented On motion the reading of the same was dispensed with (owing to its extreme length) and ordered published

Councilman Moreland moved that the clerk be instructed to furnish the Bulletin with a copy of the report for insertion in that paper for one time, providing that the cost of such publication does not exceed the sum of $7

The quarterly report of the police judge was presented, and on motion referred to the judiciary committee.

CLAIMS.

The following claims against the city were read and ordered paid J H Butler, $12, G H Himes, $45, A. G. Walling, $25, J K Gill & Co, $24, Portland Gas Co, $12 15, H W Corbett, $50; Bulletin, $9 George I Story, $5 95, L Therkelsen, $1,943, J J Robinson, $277 70, W. ORDINANCES

An ordinance to make an appropriation out of the general fund was read first second and third times and passed

An ordinance making an appropriation out of the street lamp fund was read three times and passed

An ordinance to prevent any steamboat lying at the wharves from blowing a whistle prior to departing was read third time and lost

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolution was presented by the committee on judiciary

Resolved That upon Everding & Farrell filing with the auditor an undertaking or bond in the sum of $80, in cash for the protection of the city against said warrant, to be approved by the mayor the auditor and clerk is hereby authorized to issue and deliver to the said Everding & Farrell a duplicate of said warrant

Passed

Councilman Story moved that when the Council adjourn it shall meet again next Tuesday evening Carried

On motion Council adjourned

The Gargoyles were three celebrated sisters whose hairs were intertwined with serpents they had wings of gold their heads were of brass their bodies covered with scales their teeth were as long as the tusks of a wild boar and they turned to stone all on whom they fixed their eyes They are mythological creations—but in these days, there may be seen some women who are regardless of their personal adornments—they allow the charms which nature accords to all their sex to their hair becomes dishevelled unbidden and finally to drop out when by the use of LYON'S KATHAIRON they could retain it in all its beauty and present to their lovers and husbands the witching grace of loneliness

DIED NOVEMBER 25 1874

The earth is silent 'neath the sheet of snow
Pure pure white mantle o'er all the landscape lay ing
The trees sit whispering to each other low
And all the winds are softly sadly sighing
While Musics self with head and heart bowed down
Stands while dumb death a watchful ward is keeping

O'er him who lies bent to Melody renown,
And now lies there so calmly sweetly sleeping
Alas that life should be but sowing time;
Alas that death should be forever reaping

An Arab what pity that the tuneful Nine,
Who o'er some bier spend the soul inspiring
Could not have saved to us so rich a mine
Of truthful tenderness and depth of feeling
Perhaps the Master envious had grown
That earth should have so fair and rare a flower
And so recalled what had been still his own
To reproduce it as he held the flower
And so the voice now hushed will ring anon
Amid the Halls of Power

A REMARKABLE DOG

[From the Brunswicker]

"Talking about dogs as is sagacious remarked Mr Gammon as he leaned back in his chair threw one leg over a pile of ex changes, and ran his fingers through his gray hair, talking about sagacity, I raised a dog, once which was just considerably the peartest animal I ever met the head of. Never knew what breed he was. Kind o peculiar—seemed to have all the best points of the whole species. He came to me in a singular manner too when he was no more a three months old. Heard a scratchin at the door one cold winter mornin, as I was makin a fire. Opened the door and in walked that ere pup. The first thing he done was to wipe his feet on the mat. Then he pushed a stool up to the stove and set down on it, and held his paws up to warm. After he got comfortable, he asked me to adopt him into the family.

I'm tellin' the truth, now, you bet. I don't intend to say that that pup actually addressed me in the English l—— e, but his looks, his manner his—what is we call it, ex ression was so perfect that I knew just what he wanted. I never went much on dogs as a general thing, but I couldn't go back on one of such extraordinary promise as this. I kept him and we named him Rover. He was as intelligent a one Chinaman. Picked up things 'mazin as a child. He took to the children right away—liked them as well as though they had been his own brothers and sisters—and they came to consider him as one of the family. He learned all the tricks that the limited facilities afforded on the farm. Before he was a year old he could ride horses, tend the baby, pick up chips and do a thousand other useful and amusing things. Ollo may ride a boy, and learn him the whistle, and it would do you good to have seen Rover enjoy that accomplishment. You know a rabbit will stop if you whistle to it. Well when he got after a rabbit and it was about to get away from him he'd stop and whistle. The fool rabbit would stop to see what was the matter, and Rover would have him by the neck in less n a minute.

We never had to take an axe along when we went out coon hunting with that dog. No need to cut down any trees. He would just skin up in one like a squirrel and smoke a coon or a possum out in a jiffy. One of his favorite pastimes was to take a small pail and go out in the meadow and drown out ground-hogs, getting the water from a pond near by.

Once I took Peeler to town with me and as it was election day I allowed myself to get rather more liquor aboard than I could conveniently carry. About three o'clock in the afternoon I started for home, staggering from rather than walking. I hadn't gone far before the whiskey made me stupid, and I laid right down on the track and went to sleep. Rover tried every way to get me off to the side of the road but I was heavy and he couldn't budge me. A train was comin', and in ten minutes more I would have been run over. Now gentlemen, what do you think that dog did? Why sir, he actually refused to express the rising fear, when I think how that faithful animal—God my life! He grabbed my red bandanna handkerchief from my pocket, ran toward the train and signaled it, and by George sir, stand to this. Yes, sir.

But in his way he exhibited a greater degree of gratitude and intelligence than he had ever given me. The dog had learned him to smoke, and he became such a slave to it. I feared it would impair his mental faculties. I tried to break him of the habit by withholding him, but it did no good. He'd steal off some place and smoke, in spite of all I could do. One day he went to sleep in the cabin with a pipe in his mouth and the fire fell out on the floor. It smouldered the whole house was in a blaze. But he waked up in time to arouse the family and get them all out, but we couldn't save anything. While we were standing around in the frozen snow in our night clothes, he gave a bark and rushed through the door. In five minutes after he came out of the window on the roof with a pair of pantaloons in his mouth. The fire had cut off his retreat. He sprang from the window and fell lifeless at our feet. And what do you think the dog had in his mouth—that he had given his life to save? It was the insurance policy on my house."

And the old man wept at the remembrance of Rover's fidelity.

HOW KALAKAUA SPENT SUNDAY IN NEW YORK.—New York, Dec 27.—This morning Kalakaua and his party left the Windsor Hotel to attend morning mass at St. Stephen's Roman Catholic Church. From the church the party drove to the hotel for dinner. After dinner the King, accompanied by Governors Kapena and Dominis, made a formal call at the residence of M L W Kitchen. He afterward called on Cyrus W Field at his residence, and then returned to the hotel where he found a beautiful bouquet from Mrs Kitchen, in the face of which was wrought in violet flowers, the Hawaiian word 'Aloha' which means welcome. In the evening the King made a long promised visit of the efficiency of the Fire Department from the Department headquarters. The Royal party drove to the Union League Club. Here the King met an informal call, and though several gentlemen were introduced to him there was nothing in the nature of a reception. From the Union League the King drove to his hotel. He will leave here for Boston on Thursday. His travels after leaving Boston will probably include a visit to Niagara and several Western cities, and he now expects to start for his own Kingdom about February 1st.

VERY REMARKABLE.—"John Paul" thinks that one of the most surprising things about spiritualism is the roundabout way in which every one tries to explain very simple occurrences. Something that the commonest sort of a man can do without exciting applause, becomes wonderful when a spirit is set up as the performer. For instance, young ladies have assured us that while sitting in dark circles they felt their hands squeezed, and would swear that somebody kissed them on their mouth. They would tell it, too, with their eyes wide open as saucers, and their jute switches standing on end with surprise as though the possibility of such demonstrations on this earth of ours had never before entered their thought.

ALONZA HAYWARD'S CHRISTMAS GIFTS TO THE POOR.—A. Hayward, Esq. made these royal Christmas gifts. To the Protestant Orphan Asylum, $5,000 the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum, $5 000 to the Ladies Protection and Relief Society, $5 000 the Girls and Boys Aid Society, $5 000, making a total of $20 000. Will some of our wealthy citizens duplicate the sum for a New Year's gift to the or other charities? When one thinks of this noble act of Mr Hayward one sees the truer value of money and may well long to be rich, so as to be able to enjoy the deep pleasure of relieving the poor and suffering.—S. F. Alta California

SUCCESS OF OBSERVATIONS IN NEW ZEALAND.—The Smithsonian Institute has just received, on behalf of the Transit of Venus Commission a telegram from Sir P G Airy astronomer at the Royal Greenwich Observatory announcing that the observations of Dr Peters, one of the American observers in New Zealand are a great success that 23 photographs were made of the first contact.

IRISH CATHOLIC PILGRIMAGE.—Dublin Dec 30.—Preparations are being made here for a pilgrimage of Irish Catholics to the shrines of Lourdes and Paray le Monial to start early next spring.

A careful estimate of the value of the exports of our State for the year 1874 not including lumber and coal flxes that value at six million dollars in round numbers and we do not believe it will vary materially from that figure and though we have not the exports of former years before us we do not doubt a comparison would show very favorably for the year last past. This estimate is exclusively of the products of our State and except as the minerals and lumber shipped abroad which would perhaps amount to fully one million more giving as the estimated value of our exports during the year the sum of seven millions of dollars which certainly is not a bad showing for a new country. But this is not a tithe of what might be done with the resources which Oregon possesses and which when fully developed will make her one of the richest States in the Union. Even now, though occasional murmurs of dull times are heard and improvements seem to make slow progress there is a liberal supply of money in general circulation and the people as a rule are possessed of more ample facilities for living comfortably than in almost any other country on the globe. To make money here requires tact industry, perseverance and economy but to make a fair living is easier work than it is anywhere east of the Rocky mountains. The producing classes here labor at an advantage over those in similar latitudes at the East, and the toil of their hands is more amply rewarded. With an opening up of the waters of the Islands of the Pacific and of Asia to the reception of our products we can compete with all other ports in supplying the millions of those countries with the great staples of the world's commerce. A consideration of the productions of Oregon during the past year will convince any one that we have all the elements of a wealthy and prosperous career, and those who believe that we will always be overshadowed by our great sister California will, many of them live to see the day when Oregon will stand side by side with her in the rank of producing and commercial States. The year upon which we have just entered, begins with fair prospects and promises well, and with due observance of the session prudence and economy which prevailed in the old the new year will result satisfactorily.

Grain and Provision Reports.

During the year 1874 the receipts in Chicago include 2 496 111 bushels of flour 20 236 115 bushels of wheat, 34 666 660 bushels of corn 12 641,537 bushels of oats, 30 9.0 bushels of rye, 3,147 568 bushels of barley 183 993 dressed and 4 129 90 live hogs 826 086 head of beef cattle and 321 694 sheep. The shipments during the same year foot up 2,107,140 barrels of flour, 32,153,911 bushels of wheat, 32,603,348 bushels of corn 10 [illegible] 603 bushels of oats 13,56[illegible] bushels of rye 2,348 84 bushels of barley, 3 7 236 dressed and 9 [illegible]0 296 live hogs [illegible]793 cattle and 15 [illegible]79 sheep.

Chicago elevators at the commencement of business Dec 28th contained 1 884 636 bushels of wheat 1 056,334 bushels of corn 565,272 bushels of oats 10 [illegible]0 bushels of rye and 319 273 bushels of barley making a grand total of 8 146 928 bushels against 3 [illegible]7 631 bushels one week before and [illegible]28 bushels at this period last year.

Milwaukee warehouses at the close of business on Dec 28th contained 1 198 883 bushels of wheat 36 668 bushels of corn 77 [illegible]38 bushels of oats 11 226 bushels of rye and 115,[illegible] bushels barley.

Below will be found the amount of grain in sight in the States and Canada December 12, 1874. Wheat, 12 238 942 bushels; corn, 9 880 168 bushels; oats, 2,671,469 bushels; barley, 2,476 141 bushels; rye, 804,860 bushels.

The [illegible] from the leading seaboard ports during the week ending Dec 29th include 4 186 barrels of pork 3 402,372 pounds of lard 7 968 714 pounds of bacon, 67,487 barrels of flour 289,8[illegible] bushels of wheat, 312,355 bushels of corn.

Home Fruit Trade.

We still have to note a very quiet state of affairs in the wheat trade, principally owing, we think, to the fact that our port is bare of tonnage there being still no vessels here to load. The ship Middlesex is at Astoria with her cargo nearly complete having over 1 000 tons on board. The Muriel is still in the market for charter her owners holding her at an advance on current offers for vessels of her class. It seems not yet to be settled who will load the ship Conflict, reported under charter for Astoria. The Grundloven will finish loading at Astoria and will be the first to complete cargo this year. Wheat buyers are yet occasionally securing lots at $1 37½ per cental, and some buyers have been sellers of limited amounts this week. Offers in the interior are reported as being scarce, and many persons claim that the surplus is much more nearly exhausted than has generally been supposed but the best authorities estimate the surplus still in the Willamette valley at 35 000 and 45 000 tons.

As the wheat market is so quiet it is fortunate that some little animation excited by a sudden rise in oats and this cereal temporarily takes a leading place in our market among produce dealers. A sudden rise in San Francisco has sent our market up from 42 cents per bushel to 50 cents. This advance taking place at this season will probably be permanent during the next month or six weeks.

Tonnage Chartered

Private telegraphic advices from San Francisco give news that a number of vessels have been chartered for Portland very recently but as the names or tonnage is not given the information is indefinite but it reaches us through such sources that its correctness cannot be doubted and in a few weeks we may look for a liberal supply of tonnage. The dispatch which vessels have had at this port this season, has made it a less difficult matter to arrange terms with ship-owners than ever before and is an encouraging feature in our commercial progress during the past year. There are now a very large number of disengaged ships suitable for the grain trade, at San Francisco and the future of those due here, to arrive in time, leaves exporters free to enter that market and secure vessels at lower rates than many of those whose charters have been cancelled by a failure to put in an appearance on time thus what has been the ship owners loss at times will redound to the benefit of shippers by enabling them to secure cheaper freights, and to the producer by enhancing the home value of his products.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Ajax will sail for San Francisco at 4 P M to-morrow.

The ship Middlesex being loaded at Astoria has 1 000 tons of her cargo on board and will finish in a few days.

The bark Muriel is still in the market for a charter.

The Norwegian bark Grundloven will finish loading to-morrow.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping, Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever acquired so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. In fact the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed disease and pain of more of their terrors to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded. If the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering and even life is saved by this timely protection. The public should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY & COLOR.

Advancing years sickness care disappointment and hereditary predisposition all turn the hair gray and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. Ayer's Hair Vigor by long and extensive use has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately often restores the growth and always surely restores its color when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus hereby weak or sickly hair becomes glossy pliable and strengthened lost hair regrows with lively expression falling hair is checked and established thin hair thickens and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its occasional use is necessary. Nature's dandruff heals all humors and keeps the scalp cool clean and soft—under which conditions diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies hair the Vigor is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.
